

Flix is a movie-review website.

We do not yet have a company branding, so we will need both the web design and the website development. The features we need for our new website are as follows:

- A visitor should only be able to see the movies on the website.
- A visitor should sign-up or sign in to submit their opinion about a movie.
- A User should be able to create, edit, update and delete their own reviews about a movie.
- A User should be able to see all the reviews about a given movie.
- A User should be able to see another user's profile page.
- A User should be able to edit, update, and delete their own account.
- A User should be able to "favorite" a movie.
- A User should be able to "unfavorite" a movie.
- A User's favorite movies should be displayed on the user's profile page.
- A User's movie reviews should be displayed on the user's profile page.
- The list of users who have chosen a movie as their favorite should be displayed on the movie's show page.
- The list of genres that a movie belongs to should be displayed on the movie's show page.
- A User should be able to see all the movies that belong to a given genre.
- Only an Admin User should be able to
  - Create, update, and delete a movie from the website.
  - Create, update and delete genres.
- The website should be hosted and we should be able to access it using a domain.

We are looking for an estimated project cost and a timeline.

Thank you,

The Flix team
